Up and loop down

Descending loop

The practice grid consists of 8 rows of horizontal lines. Each row is divided into four columns corresponding to the stroke types: 'Under and over', 'Up and straight down', 'Up and loop down', and 'Descending loop'. Each column begins with a pencil icon and a star indicating the starting point. The first row shows the stroke paths with dotted lines. The subsequent rows provide dotted lines for tracing. The 'Under and over' column shows a wave-like stroke that goes under the line and then over it. The 'Up and straight down' column shows a vertical line going up and then straight down. The 'Up and loop down' column shows a vertical line going up, looping to the right, and then going down. The 'Descending loop' column shows a vertical line going down, looping to the right, and then going up.
